FROM THE PASTOR'S CORNER

6th Sunday of Easter, Year "C" "Whoever loves me will keep my Word"

I don't know about you, doing the will of God has never come so easily to me. This is why I feel challenged hearing Jesus saying to me today "Whoever loves me will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our dwelling with him." I may claim to love God but the truth of the matter is that I have not always done His will at all times. Thanks to God for those who do. The prayer of a poor school kid which I heard this week has made me to believe again that it is still within my reach to do the will of God.

While praying to God, a school kid has this to say "Dear God ... You know my math exam was pretty bad today, but I did not cheat-although my seat mate was bullying me for notes ... You know, Dad has had a bad farming season so far this year so we don't have much food, but I ate some bread and drank my water. Thank you for this!

I saw a poor kitten who was hungry and I know how he feels so I gave some of my bread to him... funny but I am not that hungry... Look, this is my last pair of shoes... I may have to walk barefoot next week... You see this is about to be broken... but it is okay...at least I am still able to go to school.... Some say we will have a hard season this month, and some of my classmates have had to stop going to school to help with the farms ... please help them get to school again, please Jesus....

Oh, you know Dad hit me again, it is painful, but I know this pain will go away; at least I still have a Dad You want to see my bruises? I know you can heal them ... here... here and...oh ... blood. I guess you know about this one, huh? Please don't be mad at Dad, he is just tired and worries about putting food on our table and my schooling, that is why he hits me... I will never hit others though.

Oh, I think I am in love... there's this pretty girl in my class, her name is Anita... do you think she will like me? Anyway, at least I know you will always like me; I don't have to be anybody just to please you... You are my very best friend!"

To say the least, there is no dull moment in this school boy's life. Things may not go well for him but he certainly has God I his life. This is what Christian life should look like. But, unlike the little school boy, we easily give in to negativity. Hence, it is much easier to sustain the penitential spirit of lent than to sustain the joyful spirit of Easter.

However, the church's liturgy aims at sustaining our joy in God. When we think that the spirit of Easter is fast dying, lo and behold, soon comes the celebration of two great events of our faith - the Ascension of the Lord and the Pentecost Sunday. All who celebrate these great events will agree with me that like the school boy there is no dull moment in the practice of our faith.

The forthcoming feasts of the Ascension of the Lord and the Pentecost Sunday are not simply meant to keep us in the celebration mood but to confirm our faith in God. In the original plan of God for the world, our relationship with God was not meant to be limited to the physical but to grow to perfection on the spiritual level.

By His incarnation, Jesus makes human life as lived in world to become authentic, meaningful and purposeful. Jesus, having fulfilled his mission on earth and before going back to the Father, the incarnate One takes our relationship with God to the next level which is the spiritual level. Soon Jesus will ascend to the Father, not to abandon us but to help us understand that God is Spirit and only those who live in the Spirit are the true children of God.

As sentient beings we appreciate physical relationships since it satisfies our immediate need to be loved and appreciated, but we are also called to understand that the physical is limited, incomplete, ever changing and prone to decay. The spiritual, on the other hand is universal, complete, limitless and eternal. It is by living in the spirit that our love becomes salvific.

The gift of the risen Lord is neither wealth nor power but peace. God's peace is not an absence of "war" but the serenity, harmony and tranquility that comes from a confident trust in God. This is probably the hidden greatness that I see in the life of the school boy which has renewed my belief in the possibility of living for God in the world today.

On the spiritual level of relationship, our love, imperfect though it may be, assumes a universal and liberating character. What happens to one happens to all; love becomes more real and more fulfilling than physical relationship. God becomes my next door neighbor. The mountain, the sea, the dog and the cat help me to see the hand of God at work in my life and in others.

When this love reigns, institutions and structures disappear. Like John, we shall "see no temple in the city, for its temple is the Lord God Almighty ... the glory of God gives it light." As we intensify our preparation for the celebration of these two great events of our faith - the Ascension and the Pentecost, people of faith all over the world are called upon to step up to the spiritual level of relationship with God and others. By living on the spiritual realm, like the school boy, we live not just for today but forever in the now.

Did you know?

Heading to a family amusement park this summer? Prepare your family with some easy safety tips. Amusement parks are crowded and exciting — and unfortunately, they can also be the perfect scenario for children to get distracted and separated from the family. Before you go, discuss the rules with your children: specify where they can go and who they can go with. Establish a buddy system and a family meet-up spot in case you get separated. For more tips, request a copy of the VIRTUS® article “Keeping Kids Safe at Amusement Parks” at lacatholics.org/did-you-know/.

Todos quieren experimentar la paz. Cuando buscamos que el mundo nos proporcione esto, podemos decepcionarnos fácilmente. Asociamos la paz con la ausencia de guerra y conflicto, buenas relaciones entre vecinos y compañeros de trabajo, el logro del éxito e incluso la ausencia de ruido. Si bien todos estos son esfuerzos valiosos, perseguirlos exclusivamente como un camino para experimentar la paz nos prepara para el fracaso. Cuando buscamos la paz fuera de nosotros mismos, nunca la encontraremos. La paz verdadera y duradera es algo que viene de adentro y no algo que podamos producir por nuestra cuenta o recibir de otros. La paz se descubre cuando experimentamos una plenitud y armonía internas. Nace de un sentido de conexión con un Dios que es mayor y más grande que nosotros, regalándonos su presencia. Es la única paz ofrecida por Cristo Resucitado que puede calmar nuestro corazón y calmar nuestros miedos. Independientemente del grado de tumulto que nos rodea, esta sensación de plenitud que Jesús nos da ancla nuestros barcos y evita que nos hundamos. ©LPI

¿Se dirige a un parque de diversiones familiar este verano? Prepare a su familia con algunos sencillos consejos de seguridad. Los parques de diversiones están llenos de gente y son emocionantes, y desafortunadamente también pueden ser el escenario perfecto para que los niños se distraigan y se separen de la familia. Antes de ir, discuta las reglas con sus hijos: especifique dónde pueden ir y con quién pueden ir. Establezca un sistema de amigos y un lugar de reunión familiar en caso de que se separen. Para obtener más consejos, solicite una copia del artículo de VIRTUS® "Keeping Kids Safe at Amusement Parks" (Manteniendo a los niños seguros en los parques de diversiones) en lacatholics.org/did-you-know/.
